PROJECTS

Job Portal for PESO Office

Developed a web-based job portal for the PESO office to connect job seekers and employers. The front end was built using PHP to ensure dynamic content rendering and smooth user interactions, while JavaScript and CSS were used for the back-end logic and styling. The portal supports job postings, user registration, and application tracking, providing an accessible platform for employment services.

E-Buy: Secondhand Marketplace

Developed E-Buy, an e-commerce platform for buying and selling secondhand items using Python. The platform allows users to list pre-owned products, manage accounts, and securely complete transactions. It prioritizes a user-friendly interface and efficient handling of listings and inquiries, making secondhand trading accessible and convenient
